SOFII and Global Charity Jobs join forces to help recruit fundraisers worldwide

Two of the most popular websites for fundraisers around the world have joined forces to provide international non-profit sector recruiters an even wider pool of professional fundraisers so seek new talent from. With combined unique site visits of over 25,000 fundraisers and other on-profit professions and 32,000 subscribers to their regular email bulletins and with a truly global reach this new alliance offers remarkable value for money with a "featured job" costing only 380 Euros (Approx 335 UK Pounds) to appear on both specialist websites.

Ken Burnett, SOFII Founder comments: "Despite uncertainties in many markets there are still some great opportunities internationally for creative fundraisers. The difficulty is finding them and that's where Global Charity Jobs comes in. Now, through this great new partnership, SOFII and GCJ can help to unite some of the best opportunities around with many of the world's most committed and inspirational fundraising professionals."

Daryl Upsall, Global Charity Jobs owner, comments, "We are proud to have teamed up with SOFII to both help reach even more fundraisers around the world who are seeking new a new professional challenge whilst raising funds for the excellent SOFII Foundation and its invaluable work"
